Author: .Q: Sending email with attachments using telnet I am trying to send email from my local mac to a gmail server with a single image attachment. I am running the following command:
telnet mail.gmail.com 25 and then type
the command "A image" and then close.
Now I would expect the email to be sent with the image attachment. However when I check the mail on the gmail email, the attachment is missing. How do I actually attach the image to the mail?

Thanks! A: It turns out that the command I used to send the email is not the right one. The proper command is: telnet mail.gmail.com 25

TELNET TIP: Type the following command to get what the telnet command on the mac would do in Windows: echo -- | telnet gmail.com 25

In my case I would need to type the following command: echo -- | telnet mail.gmail.com 25

If you need to get the telnet to use the (cmd,ctrl,a) key combination, type the following: echo -- | telnet mail.gmail.com 25 ^#A
