Does not suggest that the technical trials are not possible, but suggests that they will be difficult and it will be difficult in getting such trials to stick." (R. at 20). While the Court finds that the evidence shows that the error and confusion will be detrimental to the public interest, the Court recognizes that it should not be the function of this Court, after the error and confusion has occurred, to retroactively correct it; that function must be left to the appellate tribunals of the Circuit Court. The ultimate result of the decision of the Court of Appeals will be to cause those persons who have been injured by the practical administration of Rule 4.04 as it has been interpreted by the Court of Appeals to believe that they have been harmed by that Court's decision. CONCLUSION For the reasons set forth herein, defendants' motion to modify and/or set aside the judgment of the Court of Appeals on the grounds of changed circumstances is granted in part and denied in part. A hearing to determine the amount of damages should be held with an apportionment of costs as to the defendants. The judgment of the Court of Appeals is affirmed in part and reversed in part, in accordance with this opinion.
